Environmental Webinar PART I

Peace for all sisters and brothers...

Peace and reconciliation are the core of religious teachings and faith that we uphold to this day. However, when we speak about peace and reconciliation in the context of nationhood and statehood, they become very complex. We are not only speaking about peace and reconciliation, but also matters related with human being, nature, and Almighty God. This earth can live in peace if the nature, environment, and earth itself is healthy, and so does the human being. And we can be wiser based on our closeness and responsibility towards the nature. the Covid-19 Pandemic shows that the relations between human and nature is getting worst: The relations of maintaining based on responsibility is not becoming our attention. Egoism and greediness of human being for exploration and environmental exploitation have brought disasters in every aspect of our live.

Therefore, we would like to encourage the religious actors and society, whatever their educational, social, cultural, as well as ethnical and religios, also faiths are to listen and learn directly wuth the nature and cultural-based society in Indonesia. This dialogue is expected to presebt the real collective action and awareness to heal the earth, which has been destroyed by egoism, and unlimited human greediness and interest.

Environmental Webinar PART II

Peace to all brothers and sisters...

The Covid-19 Pandemic has brought us to a new life attitude, which differs than before. Now, the self-realization has appeared in ourself that the relations between us and the nature is not implemented wisely, yet. State and its powers, owned the natural resources without implementing its regulations in arranging natural resources for the importance of its people, seriously.

In other hand, our religious practice which is not sensitive in responding to the environmental issues has sharpened the fact that religious actors are not capable enough in responding this issue. While in fact, all religious and faith institutions have their adherents, from ordinary people until public officials, investors, owners of company that get in touch with the environment, nature, forest, and lake directly. How can life be peacefull, just, and prosper for everyone if the earth and nature, that we are living on, is not healthy and dominated with greedined of certain people? The nature is destroyed, injustice remains in place, and greediness is preserved. Then, how is peaceful and healthy life? Where and how is the responsibility of religious-based institutions (adherents, leaders, actors, organizations) for this issue?

Institut DIAN/Interfidei and JAI (Interfaith Network of Indonesia) would like to invite all brothers and sisters to join the positive, critical, and constructive dialogue in the Second Sessions of Environmental Webinar with the theme "Ecological Repentance: Developing Common Religious Consciousness and Responsibility Collectively and the Common Concrete Act for the Healthy and Peaceful Earth"

The second session will be presenting:

- 1) Mama Aleta Baun (Environment and Woman Activist, TTS, NTT)
- 2) Delima Silalahi (KSPM/Study Group of Society Initiative Development), Medan, North Sumatera
- 3) Pdt. Dr. Yuberlian Padele (Chair of STT GKST Tentena, Poso, Central Sulawesi)

These three regions are struggling with the issues mentioned above. They are complex enough with the issues about nature, environment, lake, the development of mining industry and tourism.

It is expected that the dialogue could open our knowledge and building our solidarity for more peaceful and healthy earth, nature, and Indonesia.
